MISHAWAKA

ROCHESTER DEFEATED BY A SCORE OF 23-19

Down State Visitors Defeated by Mishawaka High Basket- ball Squad—Social Club Holds Last Affair.

In a fast and exciting game Friday evening on the Mishawaka high school "gym" the strong Rochester basketball squad went down to defeat to the local high first team by a score of 23 to 19. Both squads played good ball, but the unfamiliar grounds was what the visitors proclaimed as their downfall. Castle, playing forward and captain of the downstate team, played the star game of either team shooting foul baskets. Gill and Russ of the locals played a good game and much credit to the victory is given to these men.

Coach Hindelang, who has been working hard the past week in anticipation of the game with the Rochester boys, held practices every night. This makes the third victory for the Mishawaka team and they now stand three won and two lost out of five games. It is expected that the team with a little more practice will be in the running for the northern Indiana high school championship.

The Mishawaka high school second team played the South Bend high seconds as a preliminary, defeating the visitors by a score of 29 to 7. The Rochester team played well but lacked speed. After the basketball contests the Mishawaka high school social club entertained with a social and party. This was the last entertainment to be held this semester and the affair was given in the auditorium of the building. Dancing featured the evening. The Fred Martin orchestra of South Bend furnished the music. Refreshments were served.

The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the water supply and the report of E. F. Crabbill made several weeks ago. Some further action is expected to be taken soon in regard to increasing the efficiency of the new works.

There was some talk at the meeting of installing some sort of reservoir at the site of the plant or drilling more wells. Just what the reason for this could not be learned.

GIRL BROUGHT INTO RUNYAN MURDER CASE

Roxie Hart Had Flirtation With Runyan and Victim Knew of It.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 24.—Testimony concerning the alleged flirtation between Miss Roxie Hart of Centralia, Ill., and Walter Runyan, prominent Wayne township farmer, charged with the murder of Arlie Stull, farmhand, was introduced at the trial Saturday.

The Hart girl was drawn into the case by the efforts of the defense to furnish a motive concerning that Stull knew of relations between Runyan and Miss Hart and Runyan feared that his church, social and fraternal standing would be injured if Stull revealed his knowledge.

On the other hand it is said that Stull told Mrs. Runyan about her husband's action and that she forgave him.

Miss Hart's visits at Wayne township were spent with her cousin, Edith Runyan, who was Runyan's sister. Miss Hart has not thus far appeared at the trial.

30 HURT IN COLLISION OF CAR AND ENGINE

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Thirty persons were injured, some of them seriously, in a grade crossing collision between a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad engine and a surface street car crowded with working men and girls on the way to shops and factories on the west side.

It was struck squarely in the middle and tossed from the rails. That none of the passengers was killed was considered miraculous.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Former Sen. Shelby M. Cullom, who has been making a valiant fight against death for a week, suffered another sinking spell early Friday. He rallied slightly later and fell asleep, but he steadily is growing weaker and doctors say the end is near.

PUT MOON TO WORK.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Uncle Sam plans to save $25,000 in 1914 with the aid of the moon. All army post lights are to be shut off on nights when the moon shines brightly. The proposal was made by the chief quartermaster's corps.

Why Go To Church

"A central thing to be emphasized in the 'Go-To-Church' campaign recently inaugurated in our city, is the vital importance of the religious worship of God," says Rev. H. B. Hostetter of the Westminster Presbyterian church in the first of a series of letters written by South Bend ministers for the News-Times.

"That was a significant utterance of the Buffalo convention of the men of the 'Religious Forward Movement,' continued he, 'when it said, 'We hereby express our convictions as to the sobering, healing, hallowing and saving influence of the religious worship of God.'"

He expressed in the stated services of the church. The greatest contribution to be made by any company of men to the well being of the nation and the prominent progress of the Kingdom of God is a contribution by personal habit and influence toward the maintenance in spiritual power of this public recognition of Almighty God."

Hostetter and the other ministers man alike recognize that in the worthy causes they seek to promote, nothing will count so much as faithful attendance in the services at God's house. If all good morally inclined people Sunday would start to church with a resolution to go for two months, it would give the cause of righteousness and good citizenship and every noble movement such an impetus as heretofore has scarcely been deemed possible.

"In the annals of the civil war we read that the army on the Patomac failed because only 70 per cent of the men were in the battle line, while the army of the west under Gen. U. S. Grant had 90 per cent in line and marched from victory to victory. The church fails because large numbers who are in sympathy with its program neglect to co-operate.

Christianity's reserve column is disastrously large. When all non-combatants who at heart are loyal hasten to the re-enforcement of the brave band at the front we may confidently expect issues of the most momentous sort and such a forward movement perhaps as Christianity has never before experienced."

DRASTIC BILLS AGAINST TRUSTS GIVEN TO HOUSE

Rep. Stanley, Who Figured in Investigation of Steel Corporation, Files Two Measures to Restore Competition.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Drastic anti-trust bills regulating interlocking directorates and defining restraint of trade were introduced Friday by Rep. Stanley of Kentucky, chairman of the steel trust investigating committee.

These bills are not backed by the administration, although the president and Mr. Stanley conferred. The bills were sent to the house interstate and foreign commerce committee and will be considered in connection with other bills. Rep. Adamson says his committee is not to be "hurried" and that time will be given for consideration of all important measures.

"Rep. Clayton of the judiciary committee says he has given two weeks to the consideration of a federal trade commission as recommended by the president and has produced his bill," said one of the legislative members of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee.

"We have given more than a year of study to this question and we have not decided on the best method."

Not Demanding Haste.

"Before these trust bills get out of our committee," he continued, "time will be given to interested parties to be heard. This is no game of rush with us. The legislation is too important to the country and Pres. Wilson is not demanding haste."

Taking personal charge of trust legislation, Rep. Adamson called Friday his subcommittee for conference. He held personal interviews with Sen. Newlands of the senate commerce committee and with Chairman Clayton of the house judiciary committee.

The committee presented by Rep. Stanley had favor.

In his bill Mr. Stanley provides that no corporation shall engage in mining, manufacturing, engineering, or any other business, or in the sale of any interstate commodity unless it complies with these requirements to be stated in its charter:

"The business in which it is authorized to engage and the location of its executive offices."

"That it has and exercises only such powers as are necessary or are incidental to its business."

"That it is not authorized to exercise any franchise or power or to perform any act forbidden by the laws of the state in which it is incorporated."

Can't Own the Stock.

That it does not own, hold or control in any manner whatsoever the stocks or bonds or securities of any other corporation engaged in a similar or competing business except such stock as may have been pledged in good faith to secure a bona fide indebtedness, acquired upon foreclosure, execution sale, or otherwise for the satisfaction of debt, in which event it may hold such stock for a period not exceeding 90 days; that it is not authorized to enter into any agreement by which its own stock, bonds or other form of securities shall be owned, held or controlled in any way whatsoever by any other corporation or corporation engaged in a similar or competing business.

That it does not own or hold in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, by stock ownership or otherwise, any railroad or other line of transportation by land or water, or property or either of any common carrier.

For Personal Recovery.

The draft bill presented by Stanley provides for personal recovery by any individual who has been injured in business or property through ruinous methods employed by corporations. The burden of proof that no restraint of trade exists is placed on the accused. The bill declares:

That whenever it shall be established in any suit, that if it is a combination was entered into, which in any way tends to restrain trade or commerce, or limits competition, as defined in this act, in the grade, quality or quantity of any article, or combination shall be conclusively deemed to be unlawful as to any party thereto, who in carrying on any business or in the manufacture, production or vendor of any article sold, or shall discriminate between different persons, firms, associations or corporations, or different sections or communities, by selling any commodity or rendering any service at a lower rate in one section, community or city than another, or at a different rate or price at any point away from that of production and manufacture as at the place of production or manufacture after making allowance for the difference in any in the grade, quality or quantity and in the actual cost of production from the point of production and manufacture.

Other Acts to Stand.

The foregoing enumerations of acts, conduct, method and devices shall not include and shall not be construed to
